She was accidentally shot at her brother's home in Taylorville on Sunday when a shotgun was discharged in an adjoining room and twenty-two pellets entered her body from her shoulder down. She was operated upon Sunday and seemed to be making satisfactory progress until a short time before her death when she passed away so suddenly.

Mrs. Elsie M. Stevenson returned home last Saturday from Salt Lake City. She went down to attend the "Anders Frost Family Reunion," which was held on the 1st of September in the Liberty Park of Salt Lake. Also attended general Conference and reports having had a most splendid time, but is glad to be home to her friends in Raymond once more.

Funeral Services Held For Verden Larson

SPEAKERS PAY HIGH TRIBUTE TO LIFE AND CHARACTER OF DECEASED

The Stake House was filled to the last seat of the main floor on Sunday Oct. 12, when the funeral of Verden Larson was held. Bishop H. F. Allen of the Raymond 1st Ward was in charge, and the singing was conducted by W. C. Stone. The beautiful brown casket was covered and the stands lanked with flowers, the tribute of hosts of friends. The Elders of both Raymond Wards of which Quorum deceased was a member, led the procession from the home to the Stake House and sat in a body on the stand.

The opening song was "A Hail With Me," and the Invocation was pronounced by D. G. Selman.

"Sometime We'll understand" was the second song. Bishop Allen made a few opening remarks in which he referred to the splendid life of deceased, and the ambition he had exhibited in following up his studies.

Pres. Palmer of the Lethbridge Stake was the first speaker and said that he was well acquainted with the family and had known Verden all his life and learned to appreciate him because of his many fine qualities. Verden was well prepared for the occasion and had done all possible in the way of preparation. He did not know why deceased was called away at such an early age but felt that all was for the best. In his early life he had been taught the principles of life and understood them well, and he knew that all the intelligence we gained here would rise with us in the morning of the resurrection.

A. W. Jones was the next speaker and related some of his experiences with the family recently. Said that Verden would be a Savior in his family, and referred to his knowledge of the gospel and his having been thru the Temple.

T. K. Roberts then sang "Show Us Thy Way."

J. H. Blackmore was the concluding speaker and said that this tragedy was the worst he ever expected to see. He thought he had been through some trying experiences and seen some terrible tragedies but they were all as nothing compared to this. He could see no reason why such a promising young man should be called away and yet on closer examination of details it seemed that it was all according to plan. Spoke of the sorrow and mourning in both families because of the tragedy and said that some time they would all understand the why of it. He appreciated the comfort the teachings of the gospel gives us in times of trial and sorrow.

The closing song was "When Dark and Drear," and the benediction was pronounced by Pres. O. H. Snow.

Pall bearers were five brothers, Ross, Loren, Lyndon, Floyd, and Dean, and K. West, a brother-in-law. Fifty cars followed the hearse to the cemetery where L. L. Palmer dedicated the grave.

M. E. Christensen of Lethbridge was Funeral Director.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dahl of Cardston were here over the week-end.

Pres. Allen returned from Salt Lake this week where he has been attending General Conference.

D. H. Elton spoke on "Prosperity" over CJOE on Tuesday evening. Dave was very entertaining and educational as he always is.

Mrs. A. Winkler was the main speaker at the regular W. L. meeting held Oct. 9th, her subject being Education and Better Schools. Mrs. C. W. Lamb gave some very interesting current events, while Mrs. C. Nilsson and Carl Alfred gave readings. The musical number was a vocal duet by Muriel Webster and Winnie Eveson accompanied by Lula Pairs. Twenty five ladies were present.

Commercial Fertilizers For the Prairies

The development of Western Canada is the result of the natural fertility and productive possibilities of our Western prairie soils. We appreciate and admire the response which those soils make to the exploitive cultural methods practiced throughout the Prairie Provinces.

Notwithstanding the fact that our soils, relatively speaking, are remarkably fertile, that they are capable of producing under favorable conditions exceedingly large yields of grain for an indefinite period of time; there is evidence that these so-called "fertile" soils are capable of much greater production if their nature and requirements were more closely studied and understood.

The nature of soil, plant growth, climate, etc., and their interrelationships is a very complex study. In order to deal with this soil problem intelligently the farmer must have a clear conception of what the soil is. He must get away from the idea that the soil is merely an inert mixture of various mineral constituents, resulting from the disintegration and decay of rocks, or a large reservoir in to which nature has poured large supplies of plant food, from which plants may draw at will so long as the supply lasts.

The fertile soil must be considered

CROP	YIELD	NITROGEN	PHOS. ACID	POTASH	LIME
Wheat	30 bu.	50lbs	21.1	28.8	9.2
Barley	40 bu.	48.7	20.7	35.7	9.2
Oats	45 bu.	52	19.4	4.1	11.4
Potatoes	200 bu.	46	21.5	76	3.4
Sugar Beets	12 tons	65	24	80	18.0

A brief study of the above table indicates that each crop requires a different "ration." If the soil is deficient in any of the elements indicated the crop naturally suffers, yields are reduced and often the crop becomes more subject to diseases.

Plants, like animals, should be well nourished, particularly during the early period of growth. It often occurs that during this period the final capacity for crop yield is determined. The ration required by the growing crop is not identical with that required when it is advanced in growth. Ample as being composed of lives and decay ing organic matter, teeming with bacterial life. It is a factory converting raw mineral and organic matter into soluble available plant food. It must be constantly borne in mind that the amount of plant food available at any one time in the soil is very limited. In order to meet the demands of the growing crop the processes of manufacturing available plant food is constantly going on. The farmer by proper cultivation, rotation, fertilization etc., should aim to stimulate or supplement the natural soil production of plant food.

Now let us consider some of the factors pertaining to plant or crop growth. All crops do not have the same plant food requirements, and therefore it is to be expected that any one soil will not produce all crops equally well.

We commonly remark that a certain soil is particularly suited to some particular crop, which in most instances really means that the soil is capable of providing the crop with the essential plant food elements in the quantity, proportions and at a time as demanded by the crop.

The requirements of essential plant food elements of some of our common crops is indicated in the following table.

moisture and favorable climatic conditions are essential to maximum crop growth. These are largely agents through, and by which the plant or crop obtains its food, and builds it into plant tissue. The quality of plant food and its availability are important factors in determining early maturity, rapid growth and the economical use of soil moisture. In regions like southern Alberta, having a short growing season, these factors are of prime importance and deserve very careful attention by the farmers.

Memorial Dance and Supper

Everything is working nicely and at this point to a splendid time on October 31st when the Big Memorial Dance and Supper will be held.

Committees have been organized, representative of all of the organizations of the Town, and the details are well in hand to make this the outstanding event of the season.

Tickets will be on sale for the supper at 75c per plate, and the dance will be $1.00 per couple. The committee promises a real meal, and no one will regret paying the price.

The cause is a worthy one and deserves the support of everyone. Raymond has been a long time in getting a memorial, now let's get it paid for and enjoy it.

When you are asked to buy a ticket for the Supper, don't say no, until you consider the cause, and to help you remember more clearly, and to assure to us our liberty and freedom, we print here some lines from the pen of C. D. Peterson which will help us to remember the ones who made the supreme sacrifice. Read them over:

Many homes are filled with sorrow and with sadness,
Many hearts are torn with anguish and with pain,
And all nations now are draped in deepest mourning,
For her heroes who in battle have been slain.

Some are sleeping beneath the waters in the ocean,
Some repose beneath a mound of Europe's clay,
And their spirit seems to cry with joy in Victory,
From the battle fields of Europe far away.

They were fighting for their country, King, and freedom;
They were fighting for the dear ones left at home.
And perhaps some had who left his sweetheart grieving
Now fills a soldier's grave beyond the foam.

The moon shines down tonight upon old Europe;
Where the heroes of our land in silence lay.
May they rest in peace those loved ones who are sleeping;
On the battlefields of Europe far away.

GET THE BEETS

The big question now is getting up the balance of the 1930 beet crop. The grain is practically all taken care of, but practically 50 p.c. of the beets are still in the ground. It is a time of anxiety or the grower as well as the Factory officials.

A heavy snow and frost means the loss of thousands of dollars to the grower. Beet allowed to freeze through carelessness in getting them to the beet dumps mean heavy losses to the Sugar Co. The whole question is one of co-operation and united effort between grower and Factory.

Lactory officials are urging haste in getting the beets cut of the ground, also proper protection from frost in handling them between the field and the dump. If caution is used our gigantic crop will be made into sugar without serious loss, barring bad weather; and everyone will benefit.

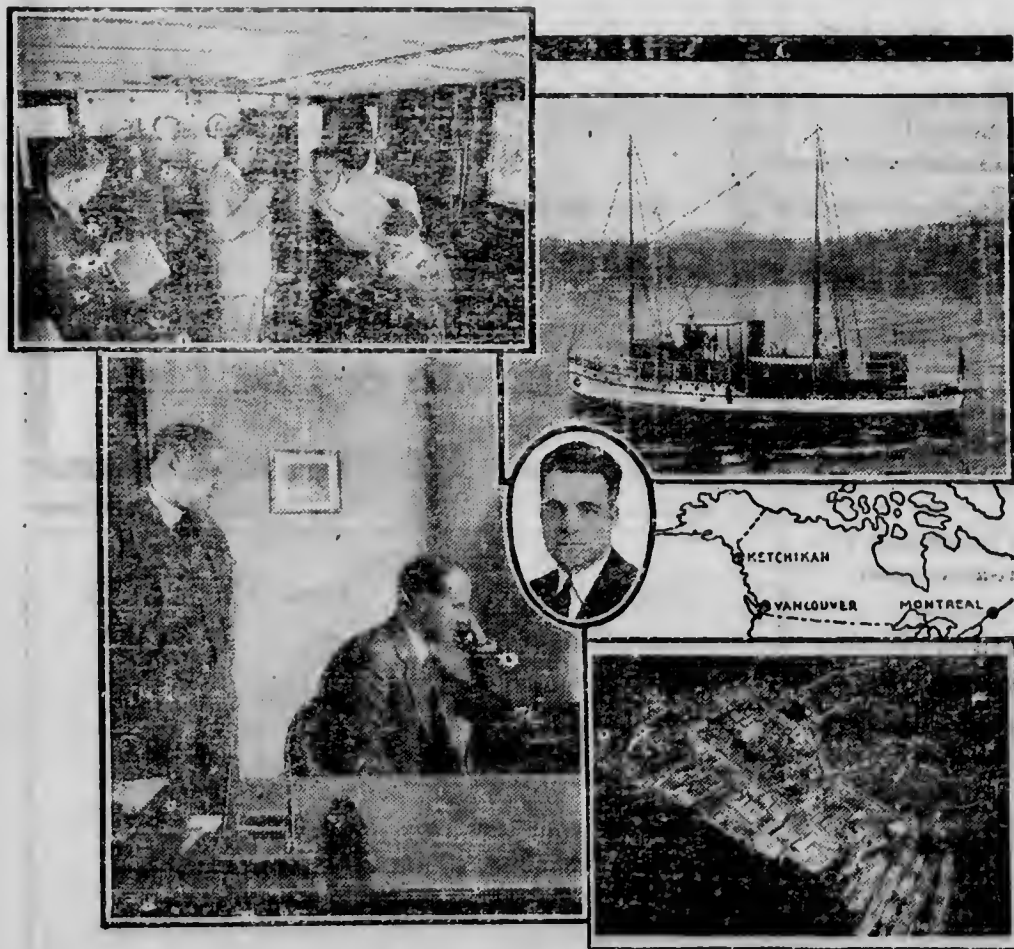

Surely the stakes are too large for any carelessness.

First Photos Alaska-Montreal Telephone Link

The first telephonic conversation between Alaska and outside commercial lines took place a few days ago, when C. H. McLean, transmission Engineer of the British Columbia Telephone Co. and H. A. Robinson, Radio Engineer of the Northern Electric Co. Ltd., on board the Yacht "Belmont" in the harbour at Ketchikan, Alaska 900 miles north of Vancouver, B.C., put in a long distance call through Vancouver to Montreal and in a few minutes were carrying on a two way conversation with Major James Hamilton, Vice President and general manager B.C. Telephone and P. F. Sise, President Northern Electric Co. in the latter's office in the new Telephone Bldg. The conversation was overheard by a group of prominent citizens at both ends of the land lines which were "connected" to the Yacht by a new Radio Link developed entirely in Canada. Pictures show, top left—H. A. Robinson and C. H. McLean with others in the operating room of the "Belmont". Right, The "Belmont" in Ketchikan Harbour. Lower left, P. F. MAUDE HENDERSON PLAYERS AT THE CAPITOL THEATRE

Three nights of pleasure awaits the theatre goers of Raymond when Miss Maude Henderson returns with her usual clever company of actors. There will be five new faces, together with the old favorites. The three Liskum sisters, Paul Putnam and Jack Rank.

The plays are new to this section with comedy predominating. The opening play, "The Flapper Grandma," is a comedy in three acts, the story of a woman sixty years young who raises her sister's children, a very much spoiled hunch. She spends a fortune on them and cannot seem to please them. She finally employs a manager to assist her. Does it work out? Come and see the fun.

They are introducing vaudeville between acts. Paul Putnam and Jack Rank will be seen in singing and dancing numbers. The winsome Liskum sisters will also be seen in clever musical numbers.

WHO'S MEMORIAL

The idea seems to be held by some that the Memorial being erected is the Great War Vets Memorial. The fact of the matter is the memorial is the property of the citizens of Raymond and district, and every man, woman and child in the surrounding territory should be anxious to have a share in it.

True it is that the local G.W.V.A. have been sponsoring the memorial, and quite naturally, because they feel more deeply than any others the heroic sacrifice made by the boys who never came back. But it is not their memorial it belongs to all of us.

Right now the cement part is a work of beauty and those in charge are to be congratulated for their splendid work. When this is surmounted by the white marble statue of a soldier in full kit with reversed arms. When the bronze plate and the side arms of bronze are placed in position it will make a memorial of which all citizens may well be proud. Unveiling ceremonies are scheduled for Nov. 10 Armistice Day.

A great deal has already been done in the way of donations to the memorial, and the Big SUPPER and DANCE on October 31st is an effort to raise funds to complete paying for the whole thing, so that when it is unveiled on Nov. 10th it will be free from any debt.

Buy a ticket. Dig down and help a little and save the necessity of asking for more donations which work is never pleasant and in connection with the memorial should certainly not be necessary.

Remember Oct 31st. Eat at the Opera House and stay for an evening of enjoyable dancing.

RAILMEN TO ATTEND ROAD CONGRESS

Canada is to be represented by two delegates at the Sixth Annual Congress at the Permanent Association of Road Congresses, which will be opened at Washington, D.C., early in October. These are Col. Victor I. Smart, Deputy Minister of Railways, who will represent the Canadian Government, and Col. T. A. Hiam, Assistant to the President, Canadian National Railways, Vancouver, who has been specially appointed to represent the League of Nations.

Previous to coming to Vancouver last October to represent Sir Henry Thornton on the Pacific Coast, Col. Hiam was technical advisor for Railways on the permanent staff of the League of Nations at Geneva. It is because of his wide knowledge of the work of the League of Nations has accomplished that he was selected by the Officials at Geneva to represent the League at the forthcoming coming congress at Washington.

More than Sixty governments will be represented at this Congress.

ELEVENTH FORTNIGHTLY CROP REPORT

Threshing has been seriously delayed by unfavorable weather during the past fortnight. Snow and rain, followed by dull foggy days made threshing impossible, and resulted in a slight lowering of grade in some districts.

At present a series of warm bright days has put all grains in excellent threshing condition, and this work is proceeding rapidly.

In south eastern Alberta, threshing is almost completed. In the south west and central parts of the Province from 50 to 75 p.c. of wheat is threshed, while in the northern area, and Peace River district, wheat threshing is from 35 to 50 p.c. done. Threshing percentages for oats and barley are about 10 p.c. lower than those for wheat, throughout the Province.

Yields have been equal to expectations and provide assurance that the estimate of 120,000,000 bushels of wheat issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, will be realized. The yield of coarse grains in the east central part of the Province is very low. In the south west, fair, and in the northern and Peace River District, very heavy. Many yields of 100 bushels per acre of oats are recorded. Potatoes and root crops will give excellent returns and the supply will be at least equal to domestic requirements with possibility of some surplus. Sugar Beet harvesting operations were delayed by unfavorable weather, but are now progressing favorably with yield and quality above average. There is also 50 p.c. increase in acreage over the previous year.

Pasture is plentiful over the greater part of the Province, and Live Stock are in excellent condition. There are indications that there will be a considerable movement of feeder cattle to those districts where feed is plentiful.

Very little fall plowing has been accomplished to date. In the areas where threshing is most nearly completed, there is insufficient moisture for plowing, and where moisture is sufficient, threshing is demanding the attention of farmers. With continuance of present favorable weather, plowing will proceed rapidly in the near future.

MILK IN AVIATION

"I believe an aviation pilot, to be fit for high pressure combat flying, stunting and long periods in the air should use at least one quart of milk a day." These are the words of Miss Elizabeth Haywood, dietician of the Methodist Hospital, Los Angeles, California. Miss Haywood is also the official dietician of the Grand Central Airport at Los Angeles, as this port found it necessary to appoint an official dietician not only as a means of instruction to men and women training to become pilots, but for passengers making air trips and prone to develop airsickness on long flights.

Almost the first act of the new port dietician was the laying down of the diet most suitable to forestall airsickness. The principal ingredient was milk, a quart a day during long flights. This was in accordance with the practice of Army and Navy pilots everywhere. A diet largely made up of milk dishes and milk to drink prevents in most cases, and in many instances ameliorates, airsickness.

At the Grand Central and also the Glendale Airports, men and women students found the Elizabeth Haywood diets enabled them to remain more hours in the air without tiring. They also found something else; the Elizabeth Haywood milk diets gave them poise and comfort and inculcated dietary habits of great permanent value.

At the Glendale field the "pen-a-pound" idea for giving "Joy-hop" flights to spectators in the field became quite popular. Many heavy-weight women, who desired to take advantage of these flights, consulted Miss Haywood, who had recourse to milk as a fundamental dietary principle, and demonstrated a method of using milk to secure adequate nourishment while retaining firm skin and flesh yet reducing.

Fresh milk, butter milk, cheese and our milk cuisine, as well as ice cream, are now served in the various menus of the Western Air Lines as prime foods of the air. With the start the Curtiss Wright service has given milk in the diet of its nautical students, and other flight services falling behind the banner of milk and milk products, both Army and Navy schools now serve large quantities of milk, while the larger air schools of a similar nature which maintain a dietary cuisine aerage about one and a half pints per day, the Government air schools run slightly more than a quart per day per officer and man.

The milk is given as a table beverage, though in several civilian schools it is available all day long in cooled milk counters. It is interesting to observe that all the greatest air pilots are heavy consumers of milk. Naval aircraft carriers are among the heaviest per capita milk consumers. In the entire American military service, two meals per day see fresh cold milk from the ship's refrigerators served, not only in the officers' mess but in the general crew's mess as well.

J. F. OWENS, VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER OF THE OKLAHOMA GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY SAYS:

THAT one of the greatest problems confronting the country today is the retention on the farm of the type of men who, after leaving the farm, have made successes in modern business ventures.

To keep men of this character on the farm there must be brought to the farm many of the conveniences that are commonplace in city life.

These conveniences must be such as will eliminate much of the drudgery incident to farm life and bring more profits.

Men and women on the farm are entitled to leisure hours for recreation and cultural development.

Electricity has demonstrated by its use where it is available in the country that much of the drudgery incident to farm work may be eliminated by taking advantage of what electricity offers.

Bringing electricity to the farms offers many intricate problems, but these problems should be studied by all of the parties interested, to the end that the greatest utilization of this modern boon to mankind may be available for the rural sections to the same extent as it is in urban localities.

CAREFUL STUDY OF THE PROBLEMS INVOLVED IN BRINGING ELECTRIC POWER TO THE FARMS WILL PROVE TO ALL PARTIES AT INTEREST ITS FEASIBLE APPLICATION TO AGRICULTURE.

Ask the Ice man—"When water becomes ice," said the professor, "what is the greatest change that takes place?"

"The price sir."—Christain Evangelist.

Here and There

(1617)
One of the biggest game bags ever to be taken out of the Canadian Rockies has fallen to the gun of Angus Hodson, of Montreal, who has been hunting in the Kootenay Valley. It includes two deer, two Rocky Mountain goats, one moose, one elk, and one black bear. At the end of his trip he spent six days tracking a monster grizzly and with one highhorn ram he would have had the limit of every animal possible to get which the law allows him.

Comprising the largest one-day movement of apples out of British Columbia this season, the Canadian Pacific Railway recently operated four special freight trains over the mountains, making a shipment of 113 carloads of McIntosh Reds to the Prairie Provinces and as far east as Kenora.

Riding moose across New Brunswick lakes and rivers is beginning to rate as the coming new craze, says Major McGeehan, noted New York sport and magazine writer, who has been spending a Fall outing in the Miramichi and Cain's River districts. Up to the present the moose ridden have been cow moose but Rev. Thomas Travis, of Montclair, N.J., appears to be the first who has ridden a bull moose which was done in the Key Hole of Grand Lake, about 35 miles from Fredericton. Now other sportsmen are taking up the pastime until it begins to look as though sportsmen in New Brunswick will be getting the habit of crossing lakes and rivers on mooseback.

Officials of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina July 25 to August 6, 1932, report that farmers in the States of Missouri and Kansas are keenly interested. Entries of both oats and corn from these states are to be expected at the Exhibition. Over $200,000 is to be offered in cash prizes and in some classes as many as fifty prizes will be awarded. First prize for wheat will be $2,500 and first prize for corn, $1,500.

Flag poles are found at their best and highest in British Columbia. Recently one was sent via the Panama Canal all the way by water, to the Toronto National Exhibition. It was 177 feet high, 31 inches in diameter at the base and 9 1/2 inches at the top. This young giant was 236 years old. The daddy of them all is at the famous Kew Gardens, London, England, and is 241 feet high.

This year's crop of grapes in the Niagara fruit peninsula between Hamilton and Niagara Falls, Ont., is expected to reach about 58,000,000 pounds, an increase of 15 per cent. over the 1929 crop.

Motor tourist travel from the United States to New Brunswick has been 50 per cent. greater this year than in 1929, according to statistics covering the season up to August 31, compiled by the provincial government from official returns gathered at the 25 ports of entry along the international boundary. The number was 385,531. Normal increase each year has been 25 per cent. and the great difference this year is attributed to wider advertising by the provincial government.

Town Planning in Alberta

(Being a series of short articles explanatory of the provisions of The Alberta Town Planning Act and Regulations thereunder.)

Provincial Director of Town Planning

Article 5

MAINTAINING THE SCENIC ADVANTAGES OF ALBERTA HIGHWAYS

Sign Boards

Regulations prepared by the Provincial Town and Rural Planning Advisory Board and now made effective by order in council should not only directly benefit the rural areas of the Province, especially in years to come, but will be appreciated by city and town dwellers and by the ever-increasing number of tourists.

We read of the struggles to maintain scenic attractiveness on the highways in many of the states in the country to the south of us, which, a century ahead of Canada in population, has for several decades been conscious of the signboard menace. In Canada we have been more fortunate, and before population becomes too great or development too intense, several Provinces are already operating under regulations in regard to outdoor advertising.

The Alberta Regulations (applying only outside cities, towns, and villages) with exceptions for official highway signs or directional signs are to the effect that:

Signs shall be erected only within two miles of any city or town, shall not be closer than 500 feet to each other; shall not be erected closer than 500 feet to road intersections or railway crossings; and shall not be erected closer to the centre line of the highway than one hundred and sixty feet. Even where otherwise permitted in such limited zones, signs must be omitted that in any way might constitute a traffic hazard, obstruct desirable views, or are objectionable to residents.

Every sign is to bear a label showing the name of the owner or person responsible and must be licensed for the calendar year on application to the Director of Town Planning, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

THE GATEWAY OF THE BODY

The mouth is the gateway of the body. Our health and freedom from disease depend, in large measure, upon what passes between our lips.

Health is very closely related to nutrition, and proper nutrition, in turn, requires that a wide variety of foods in proper proportions be eaten. It is obvious that the foods and fluids that the body requires for growth and repair, and to maintain the energy needed to keep the body functioning at its best, must pass through the gateway of the body.

Most of the germs of disease gain entrance into the body through this gateway. If the diseases which are caused by germs are to be prevented, then this gateway must be barred to them.

Food, drink and the toothbrush are the only things which should go into the mouth. Just as surely as we allow fingers, pencils, or other articles to pass the lips, we invite trouble. Such articles may be soiled and as a result there is a real danger that they may carry disease germs into the body.

In our own interests, we should be careful with regard to what goes into our mouths. We should use only water that is pure, milk that is pasteurized, meat that has passed inspection and foods that are sound and handled in a cleanly manner.

The gateway should be kept clean and this means healthy. Clean food or drink should pass into a clean mouth. The toothbrush should be used regularly, night and morning, and, if possible, after each meal. The most important time for using the toothbrush is at night, and we should never go to bed without having given our teeth a very thorough cleaning.

A dirty mouth means a diseased mouth. It means that food and drink are being mixed with undesirable material and swallowed. Disease in the mouth is very often responsible for trouble in other parts of the body.

If there are abnormal conditions present, such as diseased teeth or tonsils, they should be remedied. A regular visit to the dentist is advised because dental care will help to keep the mouth healthy, and will prevent the pain and expense of the dental treatment necessary when the teeth are neglected.

Keep the gateway of the body clean. Open it only to food, drink and the toothbrush. Close it tightly against those things which have no right to be in the mouth.

THE BIG HOUSE

INTENSE DRAMA
EXCITING EPISODES IN TALKIE
DEPICTING PRISON LIFE

Life on the "inside" in a great penitentiary is echoed, in thrills, sensations, grim episodes, comedy and heart throbs, in "The Big House," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's much heralded drama of penitentiary life, which opened last night at the Capitol Theatre.

Stark realism, and men in the raw, are contrasted with home life and a love romance in the vivid story. There is a great prison riot, with a thousand men quelled by machine guns and army tanks; there is a pathetic story of the friendship of two convicts, and the regeneration of one by love, and the startling spectacle of a boy first offender thrown into the company of hardened criminals until he becomes worse even than they.

Chester Morris, Wallace Beery and Robert Montgomery play the central roles as three cell mates about whom the riot, hate, and ferment revolves. Beery enacts a gangster slayer, vicious, yet with a sardonic humor about his characterization; Morris is seen as a forger and crook who eventually finds regeneration in the turmoil, and Montgomery does a splendid characterization as the boy, showing the corrosion of a human soul.
